

Midori Lebron

Midori Lebrón, a proud native of Cleveland, Ohio, embodies a deep-rooted commitment to education and community empowerment, proudly embracing her Puerto Rican heritage. With over 13 years of experience in higher education, she currently serves as the Associate Vice President of New Student Strategy and Engagement at Cuyahoga Community College (Tri-C), where she is accountable for new-student recruitment, enrollment conversion, and early persistence through the first 15 instructional days of a student's initial semester. Her aim remains focused on improving access to education for all students and ensuring a more equitable pathway to higher education.

Midori holds a Bachelor's degree in Sociology and Anthropology from Baldwin Wallace University, a Master's in College Student Personnel from Bowling Green State University, and a Master's in Sociology from Cleveland State University. She is currently pursuing a Doctor of Education (Ed.D.) in Interprofessional Leadership with a focus on Leadership in Education at Kent State University.

Midori remains deeply engaged in her community. She was named to the "Top 100 Latinos Cleveland Must Know" list for 2023. Additionally, Midori's commitment to education and advocacy led to her appointment by Mayor Bibb to serve on the board of education in 2023, where she continues to shape the educational landscape and advocate for the needs of Cleveland's students and families.
